

MAJ. HOLLINGER GOING ABROAD; LIST NINE NEW MEN ON FACULTY

Major John C. Hollinger, professor of military science and tactics at Gettysburg college since returning from Europe where he was a German prisoner for more than six months, will leave next month for an overseas assignment and will be succeeded here by Colonel Alfred E. McKenney, Washington, D. C., Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, college president announced today.

At the same time Doctor Hanson announced the names of eight other instructors who will join the college faculty for the fall term. In most instances the new faculty members are additional instructors who are being added to help handle the increased enrollment. The student body this fall is expected to be the largest in the history of the school.

Among the newcomers is Dr. Kenneth L. Smoke who has been selected to head the newly-created psychology department. Doctor Smoke, who served as assistant professor of philosophy at Gettysburg during the years 1927-29, received his Ph.D. in psychology at Ohio college where he has been the professor of psychology.

New In Chemistry Department
Additions to the chemistry department include Dr. Glenn S. Weiland, Baltimore, and Don Roberts, Harrisburg. Dr. Weiland graduated at the University of Maryland, and taught there in recent years. Roberts graduated from Gettysburg in 1943 and has served for the past three years in the armed forces.

The physics department has added George D. Stickle, a Muhlenberg college graduate with 13 years of teaching experience, and Merle D. Bowser, a Gettysburg graduate of 1944 who worked on the Oak Ridge project and later studied at the University of Pittsburgh.

Joseph K. Wolfinger, Smithsburg, Md., a graduate of St. Johns College, Annapolis, will assist in the English department. Wolfinger, who gained his M. A. at Johns Hopkins University, has been teaching at the McDonough school, Baltimore.

Other Departments Enlarged
John R. Roberts, Hamburg, a graduate of Penn State where he also secured his M.A., has been added to the economics department. He comes to Gettysburg from Coatesville high school where he was the head of the social science and vocational guidance departments.

Andrew Maffet, Millin, a Gettysburg college grad of 1943, will return to his alma mater as an instructor in the mathematics department.

An addition to the history department is Richard C. Wolfe, graduate of Gettysburg in 1934, who has been teaching at the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Gettysburg.

The physical education department has announced the signing of LeRoy Bloomingdale, a graduate of Juniata college in 1935. He will coach track, junior varsity football and basketball. Clyde H. Cole, a Penn State graduate, will be the new line coach of the football team.

The Rev. Howard McCarney, Conshohocken, Penna., has been named the college chaplain. He succeeds the Rev. Parker Wagnild, who will head the newly-formed music department. Rev. McCarney has been serving as field secretary of the Lutheran Theological seminary in Gettysburg.

Governor's Troop Will Hold Reunion

A "rain-or-shine" reunion of former members of the historic Governor's Troop will be held Sunday, September 29, at the Harrisburg Post Office Athletic Club cottage at Overview, members of the Governor's Troop Veteran association decided Tuesday night.

The reunion, first of its kind since 1938, is expected to bring together former members of the "social" branch of the old Pennsylvania National Guard organization who, although originally Harrisburg residents, now are widely scattered. Some still active in the association served in the military organization back in pre-Spanish-American War days. Troop I, 104th Cavalry, was the latest official military designation for the outfit, organized originally in Harrisburg in 1888 as the Governor's Troop.

E. H. Anderson, Harrisburg, was authorized to head the reunion plans to rebuild the association.

A number of Gettysburg men were members of the troop.

SOLDIER PROMOTED

Pvt. Andrew E. Reece, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reece, Sr. Iron Springs, has been promoted to private first class. He is stationed at Fitzsimmons General hospital, Denver 8, Colorado.

Poisoning Charge Laid By Officers

A Philadelphia man who has a cottage near the foot of Mt. New-man has been charged by Game Protector Leo Bushman and state police with placing poison which it is alleged caused the deaths of several dogs in that vicinity.

A ten-day notice will be sent by Justice of the Peace John H. Base-hore to William Richter, 4168 Germantown avenue, Philadelphia. He is charged by Mr. Bushman with unlawfully setting out poison to catch skunks, and by state police with unlawfully putting out poisoned bait where it could be found by dogs. The informations, filed today, charged the offenses took place August 6.

REGISTRATION RALLY FRIDAY BY DEMOCRATS

One of a series of meetings planned throughout the state by the Democrats in their state-wide registration drive will be held in the court house here on Friday evening, according to an announcement from state headquarters at Harrisburg today.

Attorney Herbert Cohen, York, will be the speaker for the Gettysburg meeting. The series of meetings opens this evening at New Castle and Allentown.

Col. John S. Rice, gubernatorial nominee, will be speaking at a similar rally in the court house at Lock Haven Friday evening. On August 19, Colonel Rice will speak in the court house at McConnellsburg and on August 21 at Berwyn, Chester county.

Claim GOP Trick
The Democratic state committee says it is investigating reports of unlawful distribution of blank registration cards in Republican-controlled counties.

"There have been persistent reports, which have come from many counties," said Joseph Yosko, chairman of the party's registration committee in a speech here last night, "that Republican majority commissioners are unlawfully giving out blank registration cards in a desperate attempt to make a favorable showing for the GOP."

"We are making investigations of this case, and will turn our evidences over to the United States attorney in the appropriate district for criminal prosecution."

"Sunken Gardens" Sold For $40,000

R. Peale and Anne B. Herrick, Gettysburg R. 5, have sold the tourist cabin property known as the Sunken Gardens, six miles east of Gettysburg on the Lincoln highway, to Ira K. and Mary Elizabeth Black, also Gettysburg R. 5, according to a deed filed today in the office of the county register and recorder. The consideration is shown as $40,000. The deed covers three tracts of real estate, including between 27 and 28 acres.

GUEST TEACHER

Mr. Henry Burkhardt of Orrtanna, will be the guest teacher for the adult classes of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church school, on Sunday morning at 9:30. Superintendent Charles Lott has announced that there will be no preaching service following the church school hour, and that in addition to Mr. Burkhardt's teaching a special worship service will be featured.

NEW HATS FOR COPS

The Gettysburg police force made its bow in new hats today. Stetson hats, similar to those worn by the state police, replaced the old style caps. The caps will be worn only in inclement weather.

Bulgaria Says She Did Not Fight Anti-Hitler Forces

Paris, Aug. 14 (AP)—Bulgaria, presenting her case to the 21-nation peace conference today, maintained that the Bulgarian army "did not fight on any front against the anti-Hitlerian coalition."

While frankly admitting the "shameful alliance" with Germany which led his nation to declare war on Britain and the United States Bulgarian Foreign Minister George Kulishev told the conference:

"The Bulgarian army was merely used as an occupation force and not one single soldier fought against Yugoslavia or Greece."

Kulishev presented his nation's plea for a lenient peace in place of Prime Minister Kimon Georgiev, chief of the Bulgarian delegation, who has been scheduled to speak. The switch in spokesmen was announced at the last minute by U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, serving his third and last day as

STATE COLLEGE BEGINS MEDICAL SURVEY OF AREA

A State College study of the uses to which medical, dental and hospital facilities in the Gettysburg area are being put by farm residents within a radius of five to eight miles of the borough was begun Tuesday, under the direction and supervision of Prof. William A. Mather of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology.

Five young women from State College began the survey in the Guldens section east of town, and will work across the area north and west of Gettysburg, later making a survey in the borough itself. The farm and hamlet study is expected to be completed within about three weeks, and the survey in the borough will take about two weeks, Professor Mather said.

At its completion, the results will be tabulated, and will be available to the college, and to various health and medical bodies, including the Pennsylvania State Medical society, the state Dental society, the Tuberculosis and Health association, and three state departments, the Department of Health, Department of Welfare and Department of Public Assistance.

Seek Basic Reasons
Purpose of the study, Professor Mather said, was to find why and how rural people use present facilities, or why they do not use them. Among some of the questions to which answers are expected, are the following, he said: Are persons more apt to call a physician if they are high school graduates than if they have only a grade school education? If they own their own farms? Do skilled workers take advantage of medical and dental facilities more than unskilled workers? To what extent does income affect use of such facilities? What part does the doctor's fee play in use or lack of use of medical facilities?

Professor Mather says there is some dissatisfaction in rural areas with the medical, dental and hospital service available, and the survey aims to get at the seat of this dissatisfaction. His corps of assistants has just completed a similar study at Shippensburg.

The study is unique in two respects, according to Professor Mather, first, because previous surveys have all been made on a county basis, whereas this one is a study of the rural people in the open country and hamlets adjacent to Gettysburg who "doctor" here, and secondly, because this area, like Shippensburg, has been picked because it represents one of the best farming areas in the state.

Comparable Areas

Heretofore, Professor Mather said, surveys have been made in Farm Security areas. Neither the studies in the Farm Security areas nor on a county-wide basis provides a good picture of the actual conditions, he said.

"Gettysburg and Shippensburg are both very good farming areas," Professor Mather said. "They are almost the same size, and their incomes are about the same. There is this difference, however — Shippensburg does not have a hospital. The ratio of stock and religious affiliations are about the same."

The study is an independent one made by the college but will be available for study by individuals or organizations upon its completion.

TRIBUTE FOR HAFER

The August term of the Circuit Court for Carroll county opened Monday at 10 a. m. at Westminster. A brief memorial service was conducted for the late Rev. Luther B. Hafer, of Taneytown, a member of this bar. Resolutions were prepared by a committee composed of Theodore F. Brown, chairman, P. Neal Parke and Ivan L. Hoff.

WEDDING BREAKFAST

Mrs. Jones wore a pale blue corded taffeta gown, with a fitted bodice, full skirt and large pockets filled with roses that matched the roses in her old fashioned bouquet. Her heart shaped bonnet completed the ensemble. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses tied with a pink satin ribbon of multiple bows.

The music for the ceremony was played by Mrs. Euphemia Rotering, church organist. The traditional wedding marches were used. During the ceremony the choir sang, "Mother, At Your Feet Is Kneeling," "Ave Maria," "Hail, Holy Queen, Enthroned Above." Mrs. George Brown sang "O, Lord I Am Not Worthy" as a solo. The mass was served by Eugene and William Rodgers, close friends of both the bride and groom.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's brother, Andrew Shorb, 207 North Seton avenue, for the immediate family and a few friends. At noon Mr. and Mrs. Zurgable left for a wedding trip to Atlantic City. Mrs. Zurgable (Please Turn to Page 2)

Attends Bankers' School At Cornell

Daniel A. Paddock, agricultural representative of the First National bank, this week is attending an agricultural school for bankers, the first of its kind in history, being held at Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y.

The school, held under the auspices of the New York State Bankers' association in cooperation with the New York State College of Agriculture, includes studies of such topics as farm management, fruit growing, agronomy, and poultry and vegetable growing. Evening sessions are being held on farmer-banker relations, farm credit legislation and merchandizing farm credit.

TOURIST TRAVEL ON BATTLEFIELD APPROACHING '41

Tourist visitation to the Gettysburg battlefield from the beginning of the year to the present time is estimated at 318,000, Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the local national park said today.

The amount is about 90,000 less than the 408,000 estimated for the year 1941 up to the end of the second week in August.

However, park authorities pointed out today that no absolutely accurate estimate could be made on tourist visitations this year until the completion this month of a proposed traffic check on the battlefield to determine the relation between guided tours and the total number of visitors to the field.

New Engineer and Foreman

Estimates at present are based on the ratio of visitors and guided tours established a number of years ago by a traffic check at that time. The same figures used in basing the estimate in 1941 are being used at the present time until the traffic check shows whether the number of visitors in relation to the guided tours has increased or decreased since 1941, Doctor Coleman said.

The park official also announced that Jay Luther Wisler, York street, has been appointed engineer and foreman for the park replacing Lt. Col. J. Richard Hershey who resigned the post when ordered to active duty with the regular army.

Wisler, a veteran of World War I, has been engaged in construction work for a number of years, Doctor Coleman said. During World War II Wisler assisted in construction work in Alaska and Central America.

Most of the work underway on the battlefield at present is maintenance work, Doctor Coleman said.

MISS SHORB IS WED MONDAY TO R. I. ZURGABLE

In a setting of palms, lighted candles and white gladioli, the marriage of Miss Irene Catherine Shorb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Shorb, 211 North Seton avenue, and Roger I. Zurgable, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Zurgable, De Paul street, all of Emmitsburg, Md., was performed by Rev. Thomas J. Ryan in St. Joseph's Catholic church, Emmitsburg, Monday at 9 a. m.

Miss Shorb had as her matron of honor her sister, Mrs. Harry Jones, of Norfolk, Va. The best man was Maurice Zurgable, brother of the groom.

Miss Shorb wore a hoop skirt gown of heavy white satin and marquise with an embroidered yoke and tapered sleeves and a train. Her veil of finger tip length was held by a seed pearl tiara. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses tied with a white satin ribbon of multiple bows.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Those admitted to the Warner hospital were Mrs. William Althoff, Gettysburg R. 1; Mrs. Lumen Norris, Emmitsburg; Dorothy Beard, Taneytown R. 1; Theron Claybaugh, Taneytown R. 1, and Ivan Koehler, Hanover R. 3.

Manley R. Campbell, Gettysburg R. 1, was discharged. It was incorrectly reported in The Gettysburg Times Tuesday that Campbell suffered a fracture of the back in an accident. Examination at the hospital revealed no fracture. His only injuries were lacerations and bruises.

NAU WILL FILED

The will of William D. Nau, Littlestown monument maker, who died July 29, was filed for probate in the office of the register and recorder today, and letters testamentary issued to a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Nau Fornwalt, Hanover, the only survivor. Mrs. Fornwalt is left all the property, consisting of $8,000 real estate and $10,000 personal property, according to the petition.

Gets Medal

W. Mark Johns, Mummansburg, who will receive the Bronze Star medal today from General Jacob L. Devers, commanding general of the Army Ground Forces, together with a citation for "outstanding courage and aggressive leadership" as a machine-gunner in an infantry division of General Patch's Seventh Army, part of General Devers' command on the western front, in March, 1945.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

One year ago tonight pandemonium broke loose in Gettysburg and throughout the county when teletypes and radio loudspeakers ticked off and sounded the death knell of the Imperial Japanese Government as a world power — the unconditional surrender of the land, sea and air forces of Japan.

Official announcement of the collapse of all resistance on the part of the Japs was not a complete surprise to most people. For days rumors, well founded, girdled the globe hinting at Japan's plan to surrender unconditionally. The Japs made overtures to some sources and were refused. Their surrender must be to the Allies and it must be unconditional they were advised.

There were several days of trying moments . . . official silence . . . but the rumors persisted. War correspondents kept the home front well informed of what was happening. Allied leaders knew that the Japs were beaten but maintained a steady attack on all fronts, smashing all attempts to resist the impending doom.

When the official announcement was flashed around the world that the armed forces of yellow-skinned bantams and giants were powerless to resist further, hearts that beat in the breasts of freedom-loving people swelled with renewed pride and happiness.

World War II was over. The best fighting machine that (Please Turn to Page 2)

Church Picnic At Sheffer's Thursday

The annual picnic of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church school will be held at Sheffer's park, Biglerville road on Thursday afternoon.

Members and friends are requested to be at the park by 3 o'clock. Supper will be served at 5 o'clock.

Miss Betty Slaybaugh, of Biglerville, Christian Endeavor recreational leader, will conduct games and entertainment for all ages both before and after the meal.

TALENTED WAR BRIDE SERVED AMG AND UNRRA

A 23-year old war bride who, with her family, spent the entire war years under Nazi domination in Germany and Poland, was three times bombed out of her home, lived on scant rations and served the American Military government and UNRRA as a German interpreter, has arrived in Gettysburg to visit her husband's sister and brother-in-law and has fallen in love with ginger ale.

Mrs. Philip Piccola, formerly Miss Dorette Beetz, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Werner Beetz, of Kolimannskuppe, South Africa, is the young war bride. She is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kenworthy, 41 East Broadway. Her husband, now awaiting terminal leave at Camp Dix, New Jersey, served five years with an anti-aircraft outfit, a field artillery unit of the army and with the AMG. He spent two years overseas where he met his bride in Bavaria.

Mrs. Piccola was born in South Africa, a British subject. Prior to the beginning of the war she was sent to Germany where she entered the University of Berlin to study languages, majoring in Afrikaans, one of two major languages in South Africa.

Refused to Aid Nazis

Her parents went to Berlin to visit their daughter and accompany her home, when the war broke out. All efforts on their part to return home were in vain and they remained under Nazi domination throughout the war years.

Dr. Beetz, a well known mining engineer with extensive holdings in South Africa, specialized in mining diamonds and later gold for the Anglo-American Corporation. He is a well known geologist and has authored several books on that subject.

When the Nazis opened war on Poland, the Germans attempted to make him serve the German state as a geologist but he declined. He said he was willing to work but not as a geologist. He was sent to Poland, where he managed a farm during the German occupation of that country. His daughter was permitted to remain at the University of Berlin which continued in operation until the latter months of the war. Doctor Beetz has been invited to lecture at Harvard. He is now in Bavaria with his wife and younger daughter, awaiting clearance to return to his home in South Africa.

Frightful Air Raids

Mrs. Piccola told a reporter for The Times that the air raids of Berlin were most frightful and destructive. Soon after the war broke out she was questioned by the Gestapo, as were other members of her family, but, she says, they were not molested or ill-treated during their long stay in the Reich.

She was in a labor camp for a brief spell and then released but always under surveillance of the secret police. Food and clothes rationing were severe throughout the war. Meat was a very scarce item and rationed in small portions each four weeks. Civilians were unable to secure gasoline, except on very important occasions. Some doctors received some gasoline and oil.

During each air raid Mrs. Piccola dashed for air raid shelters, of which Berlin had an abundance and well prepared for aerial attacks. Three times she was bombed out of her home and on one occasion was permitted to live in the attic of the university's archives building if she would keep a close watch for fires. During that time she had access to London papers, a few of which were made available to university students.

She was permitted to visit her parents in Poland on numerous occasions. (Please Turn to Page 2)

"Welcome Home" Events Underway

With the weatherman promising full cooperation, Adams county's Welcome Home celebration got underway today with church services in many county communities.

With prospects pointing to a large crowd, the patriotic parade is scheduled to move at 1:30 p. m. followed by the address of General Jacob L. Devers in the college football stadium at 2:15 p. m.; professional baseball game at 3:30 p. m. on Nixon Field at the college between the Baltimore Elite Giants and the New York Black Yanks. A softball game between county army and navy veterans' teams follows at 6 p. m.

Serving of free suppers to the veterans and their families begins at 5 p. m. and continues until 8 p. m. Other evening events are: Concert by massed county bands of 300 pieces from 7:30 to 9 p. m. in the college stadium; dance for veterans and their guests in the college gym beginning at 8 p. m., and a one-hour display of fireworks, visible in any part of town, starting at 9 p. m.

WELCOME HOME CONTRIBUTIONS TOTAL $6,272

Contributions to the "Welcome Home" fund reached $6,272 today Treasurer George M. Zerling announced in listing 76 additional donors to the fund.

Larger amounts included $25 from Attorney Richard A. Brown, $37 from Flor's Lutheran church school and $15 each from the Gettysburg National Museum, the Jennie Wade Museum and the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company.

Ten-dollar donations were made by Wolff's Farm Supply, The New Oxford Item company, Wayside Flower Shop and Raymond F. Topper. Gifts of $5 each were made by Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bream, E. F. Larson, Battlefield Swimming pool, Service Supply company and the Battlefield Hotel. The Battlefield Service station gave $3; the H. and H. Machine shop gave $3 as did Leists' Meat Market. Mrs. Smith and Henry Garvin each gave $2.

Many Guides Contribute

Nearly every Gettysburg battlefield guide contributed during the campaign, Treasurer Zerling said. Other donors announced today, including many of the guides, follow: Ira Williams, Lloyd Hartman, Frank Rosensteel, John Hamilton, Robert Weikert, James Weikert, B. D. Gilbert, Clarence Swinn, Chester Mehring, Meader Williams, Ralph Woodward, H. H. Spence, H. Ross Sheely, Edward Rinehart, C. D. Rummel, Lester Frazer, Robert Bollinger, Ralph Butt, Peter McIntyre, A. H. Shields, Edmund Rosensteel, Edgar Shearer, C. L. Butt, George D. Rosensteel, Clarence Wright, J. Guy Wolf, Charles Wolf, Roy Wolf, Roy Vaughn, Logan Irwin, Charles Haines, Charles Stevens.

Wilbur Mehning, William Abel, Harry Bumbaugh, R. H. Bushman, William Shealer, James Crouse, Walter Reynolds, Homer Buoh, Alfred Holtzworth, Harry Koch, Harry Kline, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bucher, D. S. Mickle, Becker's Store, A. R. LeVan and Son, Cozy restaurant, Sander's Grocery, Steinnour's store and Knox Grocery.

GIVEN DISCHARGE

Cpl. William E. Troxell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Troxell, Broadway, was discharged from the Army August 8 at Fort George G. Meade, Md. A graduate of Gettysburg high school, he had been in service 18 months serving in Florida and Fort Knox.

GETTYSBURG IN HOLIDAY DRESS FOR VET'S FETE

All highways in Adams county led to Gettysburg today. As the morning advanced, traffic increased, as hundreds of Adams county veterans of World War II and their families wended their way to this gaily decorated city prepared to enjoy the welcome provided for them by the people of Adams county on this, the first anniversary of "V-J Day."

The borough and the entire county was in a festive, holiday mood, with everybody prepared to make the most of this "Welcome Home" celebration. The day began on a reverent note, with good attendance at both the Trinity Evangelical Reformed church, where union services were conducted at 10 o'clock, and at St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, where the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, pastor, and a World War I chaplain, sang high mass at 8 o'clock.

Services Throughout County

The union service at Trinity Reformed church was in charge of the pastor of that church, the Rev. Howard S. Fox, and the sermon was delivered by Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary. Other churches throughout the county held memorial services during the morning.

A special detail of state police, under the command of Lt. Frank C. Miner, Harrisburg, assisted borough police in handling the traffic as the line of automobiles moving toward Gettysburg from every section of the county began increasing before noon. The state police will also help direct traffic during the parade and will help handle the crowds at Gettysburg college for the afternoon and evening events.

All on Common Ground

Hundreds of veterans of the North African, Italian, Normandy and other campaigns of the war in Europe mingled with other veterans of Pacific island landings and jungle fights, all on a common ground as new members of the great host of men and women who, since revolutionary days, have fought for the defense of their country.

Many donned again the uniforms which they wore with such distinction during the war and which were so recently, for many, exchanged for civilian attire. Others, for various reasons of their own chose to wear the garb of the common citizen today, displayed in their lapels the now-familiar discharge button emblematic of the honorably discharged veteran.

Colors Gaily Mixed

The blues and the whites of the Navy, the khaki of the Army, the uniforms of members of the Marines, the WACS, the WAVES, and other branches of the service formed a not-to-be-forgotten kaleidoscope of color to which the gaily decorated streets, with their flags and red, white and blue banners and bunting made a fitting background. Into this picture blended the colors of the uniformed bands here for the 1:30 p. m. parade.

The crowds which jammed Gettysburg today for the home-coming celebration were joyful and care-free, in marked contrast to the days not too far back when sight of a uniform might mean that the wearer was home only for a brief visit before going into battle.

Today's celebration was not as spontaneous as that which greeted the Japanese surrender a year ago today, but it was a greater observance because "the boys" were back to celebrate with "their folks."

Dr. Baker's Will Provides For Hymn Singing At Graves

Provision for the singing of "Wonderful Words of Life" and "Why Do You Wait, Dear Brother?" annually at his parents' graves is made in the will of the late Rev. Dr. Joseph B. Baker, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, York, formerly of Gettysburg, entered for probate in the office of York County Register of Wills Edward G. Ruff.

The will provides in a codicil that the treasurer of St. Paul's Lutheran church of Littitz, Lancaster county, be given $200 to invest safely, the interest to be paid annually to a singer who on the first fair Sunday of each June should sing the two hymns at the graveside.

Dr. Baker, who died Thursday, had written in his own hand on this codicil, "I hope thus in my death as in life to point men to my Lord."

Dr. Baker was born in Littitz. The will, dated Sept. 11, 1930, gives everything Dr. Baker possessed at death to his wife, Rena Lindner Baker, and named her as executrix.

The estate is valued at $400 in personal property and $3,000 in real estate. The will was witnessed by Miss Florence Klauser and Howard S. Jones.

NOTICE: Hennig's Bakery, due to shortage of materials, will close every Saturday at 1:00 o'clock p. m., until further notice.

U.S. Observes Anniversary Of V-J Day In Serious Vein

(By The Associated Press)
Without formal pause, the nation joyfully, yet prayerfully, observed the first anniversary today of victory in World War II.

One year to the day after he proclaimed Japan's unconditional surrender, President Truman asked Americans to dedicate this first "victory day" to prayer and high resolve that:

"The cause of justice, peace and international goodwill shall be advanced with undiminished and unremitting efforts, inspired by the valor of our heroes of the armed services."

While military men and others were paying tribute to the men who fought and died to bring the war to its conclusion, Mr. Truman's reconstruction director totaled up the balance sheet to see what a year of peace has meant to the home front.

In a statement last night, John R. Steelman recalled these four objectives of a year ago and outlined

MANY UNSOLVED ISSUES AFTER YEAR OF PEACE

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The greatest war in history ended a year ago today, permitting the surviving nations to turn their full energies toward solution of world problems.

Already the United Nations had been organized, people were aware of the development of a new military power at Los Alamos which seemed to make war an absurdity, and the way of the military transgressor had been proved hard, almost to the point of annihilation. People were going to have peace hereafter, even if they had to fight for it through an international army to enforce international morality.

But the ink was hardly dry on the Japanese surrender when things began to happen.

Insurgents began what has been a running fight ever since against British troops and Dutch rule in the Netherlands Indies; Britain's troubles in India began to come to a head, as did her economic situation at home; Egypt and Moslem peoples everywhere, began a campaign against foreign hegemony; the Chinese resumed civil war where they had left off when they began to fight the Japanese.

Price For Democracy

There began a realignment of ancient spheres. Russian influence was substituted for that of western powers in the Balkans and central Europe, and Britain was hard put to maintain her position everywhere.

The western powers at Tehran and Yalta had paid such prices as eastern Poland and occupational rights both in the Orient and central Europe for Russian acquiescence in "Democracy" for liberated areas; for activation of the "equal access" clause of the Atlantic Charter; for the one big thing that President Roosevelt felt contained the essence of peace—Russian co-operation after the war.

But "Democracy" means different things to different people. "Reparations" sometimes seems to include monopolistic economic and political penetration. Russia denuded Manchuria of the industry which the United States had counted upon to give dependent China the sinews for self-recovery. The Danube is blocked to the traffic upon which its basin depends for sustenance. Minor matters, comparatively, such as Austria and Trieste, stand between the powers and even a start toward settling the German problem.

These are only some of the matters which remain unsolved a year after Victory Day. They are all a part of the disturbed world picture, but more of a background than the central theme.

The central theme is unity, or lack of it, among the three great powers—Russia, Britain and the United States. The fear that stands between them has blocked establishment of anything like a stabilized world.

a quarter of a million new businesses were established in the last half of 1945, and there is every reason to hope that the birth of new businesses will continue at a high rate. Farmers are looking forward to bumper crops, and can sell at good prices all they can grow.

Secretary of War Patterson and Army Chief of Staff Eisenhower sent messages of congratulation to General MacArthur in Tokyo.

There and throughout Japan, the people of that conquered nation shared a seemingly common belief that they are better off than any hoped they would be a year ago.

MacArthur himself withheld a summary of the first year of his stewardship for the September 2 anniversary of the actual surrender ceremony aboard the battleship Missouri.

But in an order to his troops, the supreme allied commander said today is more than a day of victory.

"It is," he said, "one of thanksgiving on which we owe our heads in extreme humility and thank God that we, of democratic faith, have demonstrated to the world that peace can be gained and kept by governments established from and by the common people."

Mrs. Justus Leiseman and daughters Mardelle and Dolly who have been visiting Mrs. Leiseman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Tipton, East Middle street, have gone to New York city to join Mrs. Leiseman's husband, the Rev. Mr. Leiseman, who has been pursuing a course of studies there after which they will return to their home at Frostburg, Md.

Mrs. Beatrice Sponsler, and daughter Patricia, returned Tuesday evening to their home on South Stratton street from a vacation trip to Atlantic City. Mrs. Sponsler's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Stover Small, with whom they had spent the time, are remaining at the ocean resort.

James Kirkwood left this week for his home in California after a week's visit with M. C. Jones, at his summer home at Caledonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Minter, East Middle street, have returned from a visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Lutz, Warren. They were accompanied home by their sons, Norris and Bobby, who had been with their sister for several weeks.

STUDENTS WANT BETTER SEATS

Atlanta, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Georgia Tech ticket tangle continued to boil as school officials expressed concern over student threats of force to get better seats for this season's home football games.

Tech's president, Col. Blake Van Leer, declared the students had a right to present their demands to the athletic board in an orderly manner, but that he wouldn't "stand for threats if the board does not comply with their requests."

At a mass meeting in the Tech gymnasium Monday a group of undergraduates proposed picket lines and other measures to keep outsiders from Tech games if the present seating arrangements remain in effect.

Student spokesmen say the crux of the problem lies in the athletic board's decision to seat the school's 5,000 undergraduates between the 40-yard line and the end zone, as well as in temporary bleachers behind the goal posts.

Charles Griffin, business manager of the athletic board, said this arrangement was necessary because of the school's heavy enrollment—more than double that of last year.

Vet Returns To Eviction Notice And Wife Gone

Philadelphia, Aug. 14 (AP)—A routine week-end pass for a 37-year-old GI turned into double trouble.

Pfc. John Wilson says he came home to find:

(1) His wife gone and a note saying she would return "someday" to see their two children.

(2) An eviction notice.

The soldier, undergoing treatment at Halloran General hospital, Staten Island, N. Y., for war wounds suffered in Germany, wants his wife, Elizabeth, 29, "to return to the children."

"They have no one to take care of them," Wilson told the missing persons bureau.

The house was empty and the children—Betty Jane, 10, and Diane, 3—were playing in the street when he came home.

"Mamma told us to play while she went to the store," Wilson said Betty Jane told him.

"Mamma" didn't come back. Wilson said she hadn't paid the rent—thus the eviction notice.

The American Red Cross loaned him money to buy food for the children and helped him get a 15-day furlough.

But, Wilson said, he needs his wife to "straighten things out."

TWO ARE FINED

Ruben Mack James, Beaumont, Tex., was fined $10 and costs Tuesday by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder for not having an operator's license. He was arrested by state police.

A fine of $5 and costs was imposed by Squire Snyder on John Eisenhart, Dover, Pa., for driving through a stop sign on Chambersburg street. The arrest was made by state police.

LAFOLLETTE IS TRAILING WITH VOTE NEARLY IN

(By The Associated Press)

Circuit Judge Joseph R. McCarthy moved into a 4,727-vote lead today over Senator Robert M. LaFollette, who sought nomination by Wisconsin Republicans after 12 years under the progressive banner.

With only 156 of the state's 3,146 precincts missing McCarthy, backed by the Republican State organization, had 195,111 votes to 190,384 for the veteran of 21 years in the Senate. Included were 553 of 582 precincts in Milwaukee county, where McCarthy ran strongly.

Wisconsin's governor, 83 year old Walter S. Gooding, who like LaFollette ran despite opposition of state party leaders, held a commanding lead over two opponents.

Prestige at Stake

LaFollette, whose progressive party organization voted to dissolve a year ago last March, had staked his prestige on the outcome of the primary. He said he would not run as an independent if he failed to receive the nomination.

LaFollette was elected as a Republican in 1925 when he ran for the unexpired term of his father, the late "Fighting Bob," at the age of 30.

He was reelected in 1928 as a Republican but split with the party early in the New Deal to support much of the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration's program. He won in 1934 and 1940 as a Progressive.

McCarthy called him an isolationist and challenged him to debate the issue, but the senator said he would stand on his record.

In addition to seeking the ouster of LaFollette, the state Republican organization had picked Delbert J. Kenny, investment banker and former state American Legion commander, to run against Gooding.

Kenny failed to provide the main contention in the voting yesterday. That came from Ralph M. Immelt, former state adjutant general, veteran of World Wars I and II and member of the defunct Progressive party. Returns from 2,912 precincts gave Goodland 180,824; Immelt 160,216; Kenny 65,673.

Two Governors Lose

In the Democratic gubernatorial primary, Daniel W. Hoan, former Socialist mayor of Milwaukee, rolled up 51,712 votes in 2,831 precincts to win the nomination handily. His opponent, Stanley Pajkowski, also of Milwaukee, polled 15,501 votes.

Howard J. McMurray, unopposed for the Democratic senatorial nomination, received 58,765 votes, in 2,830 precincts.

Two other governors—Republican Mortimer R. Proctor of Vermont and Democratic Ransome J. Williams of South Carolina—failed to make the grade in primaries yesterday.

Proctor lost the nomination to Ernest W. Gibson, former U. S. senator and a recent army colonel, by 8,000 votes. It was the first time in modern years Vermont had refused its chief executive a second term. The Republican nomination there

Upper Communities

Harold Shank, Hagerstown, spent Monday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Shank, Gurnsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Barnard, Jenkintown, and daughters Sandra and Christine, have concluded a visit with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Romig, Biglerville R. D.

Mrs. Ernest W. Brindle and daughter, Miss Mary Brindle, and Mrs. Richard C. Walton, Biglerville, spent Tuesday in Harrisburg. They were accompanied as far as Dillsburg by Mrs. Bradford Peterson and sons Barry and Tommy, who spent the day with Mrs. Peterson's sister, Mrs. Arthur Garretson.

HUGE PROFIT FROM LIQUORS

Harrisburg, Aug. 14 (AP)—A profit of $28,607,217—an all-time record—was made by Pennsylvania's state liquor monopoly in the year ended May 31 on a retail business of $201,375,968.

The State Liquor Control board forecast the profits on sales in state stores will be practically the same for the current year "unless something unusual happens."

The better than $28,000,000 was made during a period when one of the system's chief commodities—whiskey—was still rationed at the rate of a fifth of a gallon to a customer for variable periods, generally two or three weeks.

It was in addition to the $14,464,100 paid into the commonwealth's treasury as receipts from the 10 per cent emergency tax on liquor. Of the year's profits, $23,000,000 was turned over to the budget office and the remainder—$5,609,217—was retained by the board as working capital.

"It was a larger sum than normally but since we run without any capital, it was necessary to retain that amount because of the high prices and the need for carrying more inventory," a board spokesman explained.

Scrap Shortage Is Complicated By Price

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—The critical shortage of scrap in the steel industry tended to become more serious this week following decision by scrap industry leaders to seek a $3.50 a ton price increase, the Iron Age said today.

The decision, the publication said, "resulted in dealers—and possibly many producers—withholding scrap shipments in anticipation of higher prices. Production scrap is increasing in volume steadily in fabricators' plants, but much of it is being stalled on its way to the mills."

means election in the fall.

Williams ran far behind as J. Strom Thurmond, former army officer, and Dr. James A. McLeod, president of the state health association, finished one-two in the 11-man field to qualify for a September 3 runoff.

three powerful aggressor-nations could muster, plus countless thousands of men and woman that were shackled to the Axis war vehicle had been completely crushed. The era of supermen, so-called by loose-tongued, power-crazed mortals was over. The American flag, greatest symbol of freedom in all the world, dwarfed all others in point of respect and admiration.

One year has passed, there is strife and turmoil in many sections of the world today. For many peace has not come. There are those who still persist in exerting their dominating influence and political dogma over the weak and helpless. There are some conflicts even between the Allies.

But in this great country, Freedom of speech and Freedom of worship and Freedom of political faith are paramount; great strides toward a return to pre-war normalcy have been made. Greater strides will be achieved as time marches on.

On this first anniversary of V-J Day, devoted to paying tribute to the men and women from Adams county who served so nobly throughout the war, let us pledge anew our faith in our country, our allegiance to the Flag of this greatest nation in the world and our belief and faith in the future of our democracy.

A 2 to 1 victory over the Ice and Storage Tuesday night assisted the Elks into third place in the Community softball league while the Varsity Barbers, despite their win, 6 to 2, over State Highway, dropped to fourth place as a result of the percentages.

The local Moose lodge, continuing their winning streak, and with only nine men, topped the high flying Acme group, 2 to 1, in a closely fought game on the college field. In the other game the Marketeers were given a 9 to 0 forfeit by the State Highway ten.

Runs by Baber and Hixon gave the Moose their victory. Pushing their first tally across in the third, the Moosemen led until the last inning when the Acme scored its single run and tied the game. The Johnsonmen came back in their half of the seventh to score another run and win the game. Baltzley's two bagger was the best hit of the game. This evening the league will take a rest while the Army men battle the Navy veterans in a Welcome Home celebration contest on Nixon field at Gettysburg college at 6 o'clock.

To make up for the lost games tonight the league will play again Friday night when the games originally scheduled for this evening will be held.

Freeport Driver Wins Midget Race

Philadelphia, Aug. 14 (AP)—Bill Schindler, of Freeport, N. Y., had little trouble winning his first major race at the Yellow Jacket speedway Monday whirling 25 laps around the 1/5-mile paved oval track in 5:45.68 minutes.

Schindler led Tony Bonadiaz, Bronx, N. Y., across the finish line in the East-West Sweepstakes Midget auto race. John Ritter, Chicago, was third.

7 Former Champions In Amateur Tourney

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—Seven former titleholders will be among the 150 golfers who report at Springfield, N. J., Sept. 9, to match strokes in the National Amateur championships, last held in 1941.

Headed by Defending Champion Bud Ward of Spokane, Wash., the previous winners will be excused from qualifying play to be held later this month on 29 courses throughout the country.

Also exempt from qualifying trials are two former British amateur champions, whose names are among approximately 900 entrants.

First Game Played In Junior Baseball

Glens Falls, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—The Junior American Legion baseball champions of New York state and New Jersey, first round winners, clash today in the region two tournament.

The Lodge-Pignata post of Staten Island turned back Naugatuck Post 17, Connecticut leaders, 8-2 yesterday. The Trenton Schroths, New Jersey champs, vanquished the Providence, R. I., Lochambeau Post, 7-0.

The losers meet in a preliminary game today.

COLLEGE ADDS JAYVEE COACH

The coaching staff of Gettysburg college was completed with the signing of LeRoy Bloomingdale, army veteran and former Juniata college football star, Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president, announced today.

Bloomingdale, who coached at Westfield high school, N. J., prior to and after his army tenure, will guide the destinies of the junior varsity football, junior varsity basketball and track teams, and serve as a member of the physical education department.

A graduate of Juniata in 1935, Bloomingdale coached the Juniata freshman football team later that year to a record of four wins in five starts. The following year he moved to Greenville high school, N. C., where his basketball team was runner-up for the state championship.

In 1937, Bloomingdale transferred to Millville high school, N. J., where he coached football, basketball and track. The following three years he served as football, basketball and track mentor at Ocean City high school, N. J. In 1938 his football team won the county title and in 1940 his gridders were runner-up for the Group 2 South Jersey championship.

In the army, he rose from the rank of private to captain and gained his discharge in the early months of 1946.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)
Pitcher Tommy Fine's 17-game record-breaking Eastern league victory streak was at an end today.

The Wilkes-Barre Barons not only halted the Scranton righthander's win string last night, but blasted him off the mound with a seven-run fifth inning as they went on to hand the league leading Miners their worst defeat of the season, 15 to 1. It was Fine's second loss of the year. He was won 18.

In other games last night, the Hartford Chiefs smothered the Albany Senators, 9 to 1; the Binghamton triplets battered the Utica Blue Sox, 6 to 1; and the Williamsport Grays and Elmira Pioneer split a pair. The Grays won 11 to 0, then ended a five-game victory streak by losing, 8 to 6.

FERRIS FIRST SINCE FERRELL WITH 20 TWICE

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Dave Ferriss, labeled "just another wartime pitcher" when he flopped in his first two 1946 starts, is taking bows today as the first hurler since Cleveland's Wes Ferrell in 1930 to win 20 games in each of his first two complete big league seasons.

The Boston sophomore's 20-4 record overshadows Hal Newhouse and Bobby Feller and gives him an outside chance at the coveted 30-win season.

Ferriss was not as effective as usual last night in downing Philadelphia, 7-5, with nine hits but he had the big guns of Teddy Williams and Johnny Pesky booming at his back. Williams' two doubles helped drive in two runs and Pesky's three hits sparked the 11-hit attack on Bob Savage, at Shibe Park.

Trout Blanks Indians
Feller's bid for win No. 22 failed when Dizzy Trout blanked Cleveland with three hits for a 1-0 Detroit edge.

Chicago clung to sixth place in the American by sweeping both ends of the first twilight-night doubleheader of the season at St. Louis, 3-2 and 2-1.

Lefty Johnny Schmitz of the Chicago Cubs prevented the St. Louis Cardinals from taking over the National league lead when he blanked them with three hits, 1-0. The leading Brooklyn Dodgers were rained out.

Cincinnati's slumping Reds dropped their eighth in a row and fell to within a single game of the sixth place Giants, losing to Pittsburgh, 3-2.

Wet grounds forced postponement of the scheduled Washington-New York Yankee game and rain washed away the tilt between the Philadelphia Phillies and Boston Braves.

Extra Races On Grand Circuit Card

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 14 (AP)—Seven events are on the grand circuit harness racing card at the Illinois State fair today, including the 2:04 bar trot for $12,950 and the $2,604 Nancy Hanks stake.

In addition, the review futurity 3-year old trot and the 2:24 trotting stake, both held over from yesterday when rain cancelled the program, will be run.

Chesterton, winner of the recent Hambletonian, is entered in the 2:24, and two other Hambletonian competitors, Victory Song and Deanna, are slated for the review futurity. The 2:04 bar trot has attracted ten of the fastest trotters now campaigning. They include two stars from the E. J. Baker stables, De Spinner and Algiers; Tom Berry's Rayland, Charles Livingston's All Spencer and E. S. Moriarity's Scotch Goddess.

Inter State League

(By The Associated Press)
Third-place Hagerstown, idled by rain, was only eight games behind leading Wilmington in the Interstate league—and a single game out of second—as the two top teams divided a twin bill for the second consecutive day.

Wilmington edged Harrisburg 2 to 1 in the opener last night, but the Senators evened the count with a 10-7 decision in the nightcap. Lancaster went deeper into the cellar after losing to Allentown 9 to 5, York defeated Sunbury 6 to 2. The Trenton-Hagerstown game was postponed because of rain.

Tonight's schedule: Hagerstown at Harrisburg; Trenton at Lancaster; Allentown at Wilmington; Sunbury at York.

Hazleton Goes Without Its Milk

Hazleton, Pa., Aug. 14 (AP)—For the second time in six months the 38,000 residents of Hazleton—except for hospital patients—are getting no milk.

Milk deliveries halted at midnight last night on action of Local 297, General Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union (AFL).

Union officials said dairy owners failed to reply to a request to begin negotiations on a labor contract that expired July 6.

Milk deliveries had been suspended for seven days in March.

Veterans Paired In Women's Western

Cleveland, Aug. 14 (AP)—A pair of veteran tournament performers—Louise Suggs and Dorothy Germain—tangle here today in the headline attraction of the women's western amateur golf championship tournament.

Miss Suggs, the Lithia Springs, Ga., swinger who has racked up six major golf titles this season, was rated a slight edge in this second round match, but Dorothy's been around tournament play long enough to assure a down-to-the-finish struggle against one of the tourney's two top favorites.

Miss Germain, who plays under a Richmond, Ind., banner but whose home is Philadelphia, won this amateur affair in 1943 and '44 and went to the semi-finals a year ago.

Roundup Sports

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—Predictions (for whatever you think they are worth) from folks who claim they have the hot dope but don't want their names used: . . . (1)

That Mickey Owen will be reinstated soon and will rejoin the Dodgers. (Sounds far fetched, but Mickey, who was the highest-paid player in the Mexican league, must have had some idea that he'd get back before he left Mexico.) . . . (2) That Bob Feller will receive a blank check from the Pasquels, like the one offered Ted Williams, during the off season. . . . (3) That Cecil Travis, first approached in Havana during spring training and contacted since then in the Washington dugout by a Pasquel agent, will sign a five-year contract to play in Mexico before next season.

Erie Hits Safely In All But Eighth

(By The Associated Press)
Hitting safely in every inning but the eighth, the Erie Sailors defeated the Oil City Pirates, 6-2, in a middle Atlantic baseball league game last night. It was the Tars' 21st victory in 22 contests with Oil City this season and a clean sweep of the 13 games played at Oil City.

The Youngstown Grimlins staged a six-run uprising in the ninth inning to win the rubber game of a series with the Butler Yankees, 7-2. Up until that time, the game has been a mound duel between Pete Kowalczyk, Butler hurler, and Charley Doleshaw, Youngstown pitcher.

The other tussle of the day was a slugging match in which Johnstown was returned an 11-10 winner over Niagara Falls.

Predicts 10,000 Will See Fight

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—Although the local fistie fraternity has made Jersey Joe Walcott a 5 to 1 favorite over Tampa's Tommy Gomez in their ten-round bout at Madison Square Garden Friday night, the bout is attracting a considerable amount of attention.

Matchmaker Nat Rogers of the 20th Century Sporting club predicted today that at least 10,000 fans will turn out to see the scrap that may lead to a title bout with Champion Joe Louis next spring. Louis isn't likely to fight again this year after his September meeting with Tami Mauriello, but the winner of Friday's tussle likely will rank right behind Mauriello as a challenger.

MARTIN ASKS BIG SLASH IN U.S. WORKERS

ing of 1,000,000 workers from the federal payroll to save $3,000,000,000 annually and a state veterans bonus paid for by taxes suggested by veterans themselves are proposed by Governor Martin.

The cut in the government employees was urged by the Pennsylvania executive, who is Republican nominee for the U. S. Senate, at a news conference yesterday. He had been informed cuts were in prospect in federal grants for highways and airports.

"I would like to see them start economizing on the federal payroll," he stated. "Dismissal of 1,000,000 employees would save us $3,000,000,000 a year."

Told that U. S. Senator Harry Byrd (D-Va.) has proposed an even greater reduction in federal workers, Martin said "I'm a conservative individual."

The governor said the cut could be made on a horizontal basis without hurting the efficiency of government agencies, explaining it would cut red tape but not enough. "It is necessary for both Pennsylvania and the United States to have agriculture departments," he asked, but added he was not recommending elimination of the federal agency.

On the bonus for GIs, he said he concurred with Attorney General James H. Duff, GOP candidate for governor, in leaving to veterans' organizations the determination of how the payments should be financed.

"I would be willing to accept any reasonable tax that will not be detrimental to industry or labor or agriculture," he said, explaining if veterans wished, it could be a sales tax. "Sales taxes have worked in other states," he commented.

"SNEEZERS" ARE HARD HIT

Harrisburg, Aug. 14 (AP)—Aided by ideal weather, the obnoxious ragweed is blossoming beautifully throughout Pennsylvania this week, setting the stage for the annual outbreak of red eyes, running noses and other sneezing symptoms among thousands of hay fever sufferers.

This year's heavy crop of ragweed is due to pollinate in a day or two, the state Agriculture Department reported, and will be the bane of hay fever citizens until the first frost, expected about the second or third week of September.

"As a surefire preventive measure," Dr. Dale Stahle of the state Health Department advised sufferers to keep away from ragweed and other sources of pollen as much as possible. Ragweed is usually found along roadside, on vacant lots and other untended ground.

The McKean county community of Kane has had a reputation for being free of pollen, but Dr. Stahle says such places are few in Pennsylvania since the tiny dust-like particles travel miles through the air.

Although ordinarily given in advance of the hay fever season, he heartily recommended "desensitization" treatments for the condition. Sometimes they are given by mouth—with a solution of the offending pollen—until the patient acquires immunization similar to that of small pox or typhoid fever vaccinations.

Capone Informer Dies Of Wounds

Chicago, Aug. 14 (AP)—James M. Ragen, 65, wealthy racing news publisher who recently declared that Al Capone still controlled Chicago gambling and vice, died today in Michael Reese hospital of shotgun wounds inflicted by assassins June 24.

Ragen had told State's Attorney William J. Tuohy he had prepared and filed away affidavits of evidence involving a syndicate controlled by "the Capone family," and that the evidence would be delivered to Federal authorities in the event of his death.

Force Cattle Hides Toward Markets

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Civilian Production administration reported today that it has forced the movement to market of between 500,000 and 1,000,000 cattle hides as a result of its investigation of producers' stocks.

"We have shaken loose an awful lot of hides," Morris Verner, chief of CPA's compliance division, told reporters.

Verner said that during the first two days of an investigation started a week ago "we moved close to 300,000 hides" on their way to shoe manufacturers.

CPA undertook its study of the hide and leather inventories of producers on instructions from reconversion director John R. Steelman, who said shoe plants would have to shut down unless shipment of hides was resumed.

3 JEWS KILLED IN NEW RIOTING

London, Aug. 14 (AP)—Zionist spokesmen loudly condemned today British measures to halt illegal immigration to Palestine, where conditions were reported critical in the wake of rioting in Haifa yesterday during which three Jews were killed by British soldiers.

Dispatches from Jerusalem quoted a spokesman for the Jewish agency as saying that the deportation of illegal immigrants to Cyprus had "aroused anger throughout the Jewish community" and that the British government's efforts to justify the action had only "added fuel to the flames."

"Peace in Palestine can never be achieved by such tactics," the spokesman added ominously. In Paris, the Jewish agency Executive issued a formal statement condemning the British ban on "so-called illegal immigration" as "an act of great cruelty."

The rioting in Haifa broke out yesterday when approximately 2,000 Jews, answering a call by the underground radio, defied a British-imposed curfew and surged into the streets in protest against the shipment of 1,000 illegal immigrants to Cyprus.

The casualties occurred when British Tommies opened fire to disperse the crowd.

Polio Strikes 3 Youths And Adult

Pittsburgh, Aug. 14 (AP)—Four more infantile paralysis victims were being treated in Pittsburgh hospitals today. They were a 6-year-old Slippery Rock boy, an 8-year-old West Allegheny girl, a 3-year-old Midway girl and a 30-year-old Millsboro man.

The latter victim was a counselor at the Society of Friends' camp, near Brownsville, Fayette county, where one of the 20 children was stricken with Polio last week. The camp subsequently was quarantined.

Great Assembly Comes to Close:

The greatest Lutheran Summer Bible Assembly ever held at the Seminary, came to a fitting close Wednesday morning with the action taken by the organization to raise $800 to complete a $10,000 fund, establishing a rescue mission in Japan. The mission will include a rescue work and home for reformed Geisha girls and a home for old people and orphans. The money was cabled to Japan.

The appeal for the support of the work in Japan was made by Mrs. E. C. Cronk as a climax to her closing address which was a challenge to a life of Christian service and leadership.

The registration was 228, a greater attendance than was present at any previous Assembly here.

Married in New Chester: Clarence Grayson Ecker, Tyrone township, son of Calvin T. Ecker, and Sarah Marie Slaybaugh, also of Tyrone township, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin F. Slaybaugh, were married in New Chester on Thursday by Rev. L. G. Stouffer, pastor of the Lutheran church there.

Today's Talk

GET THE THING DONE!

Too many people look askance at a problem, as though its solution were obvious, but do nothing about it. They pass by the obvious thing to do and see how many different, difficult ways can be tried out first!

You note this practice in everyday life, and markedly so in the high councils of government these days. Too much talk to no avail, too much wrangling, too little common sense, too much politics. What a kindly individual is that one who brushes aside difficulties, looks the problem full in the face — and gets the thing done!

I have a neighbor on Grand Lake, where I have my summer island retreat, whose name may mean nothing to readers of this talk, but it means a great deal to me. His name is George W. Tingley. I think the middle initial stands for Work, for I never see him idle. He sees a thing that ought to be done — and does it — the simplest, quickest, obvious way. And then he goes on to something else that is worth while.

I owe much of my happiness here at Weskewenak to this man, who sees things about my place that ought to be done in my absence — and does them for the pure joy of doing, and perhaps to give me a surprise and a feeling of gratitude. But it is characteristic of G.W.T. to do these things, not alone for me, but for all those within his community. He would stand at the bottom of the procrastinator class!

It has now been over a year since the last great war apparently was ended — but there is yet no genuine peace, no getting down to the rebuilding of the world, which has been so tragically torn, bruised and battered. It would seem that this last great lesson of war would have been so thoroughly learned that peace would be the first and primary task — and quickly enacted, so as to initiate the building of hope and good will in the world, but the cruel dickering goes on. Millions remain hungry and homeless. Production of the essentials lags.

The world needs a baptism of faith in leaders who get things done, and these leaders must recognize the fact that the interests of the people come first, not selfish and sordid ambitions for more land, booty, and political preferment. It was a poet who exclaimed: "God, give us men" — and I would add, men that get things done!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Paint."

FEARS

I am a man of fears! I dread
A baby falling out of bed.
Though I have heard it oft before,
I hate that bump upon the floor.

I am a nervous man! I shrink
When youngsters stand on peril's brink.
Or helter-skelter race the stairs,
Or stand tip-toe on shaky chairs.

When boys with matches I behold,
The blood within my veins goes cold.
An open knife, a running child,
With terror almost drive me wild.

But, of the fears to which I'm host,
I think that fish hooks fright me most—

For once I saw, when young was I,
A fish hook in a youngster's eye.

GEN. BRADLEY WORRIED OVER VET TRAINING

(Editor's Note: This is the first of three articles describing the on-the-job training program for veterans.)

By ROWLAND EVANS, Jr.

Washington, Aug. 14 (P)—General Bradley, Administrator of Veterans' Affairs, is worried about the on-the-job training program. He has said so.

On-the-job training is one of the many benefits afforded veterans of World War II by the G.I. Bill of Rights. It provides for a government subsistence allowance payable to any veteran who participates in a job-training situation.

The only stipulation is that the job the veteran takes can lead within a reasonable time to a better job. In other words, the veteran is "in training" for a better job. But employers who conduct job-training programs do not have to guarantee the veteran a better job.

Subsistence Allowance

Almost any company or individual employer can be approved to give on-the-job training. The approval is not given by the Veterans Administration (VA), but by the state in which the company is located. Usually the State Department of Education is the agency having jurisdiction.

The subsistence allowance paid by the government amounts to $65 or $90 a month, depending upon whether the veteran has a dependent or dependents.

The allowance is payable for a maximum of four years and is designed to supplement low entry-wage salaries.

"National Scandal"

When the veteran finishes his training and starts drawing the pay of a fully-trained worker, the allowance is cut off.

At no point during training may the veteran's salary plus the subsistence allowance exceed the pay of the fully-trained worker. As the veteran's salary increases, the subsistence allowance is cut down to keep the total about equal to the pay of the fully-trained worker.

General Bradley said in a speech last week that the on-the-job training program "threatened to become a national scandal."

Here's why. Some unscrupulous employers get themselves approved to give job-training. Then they hire veterans under the job-training program and deliberately cut entry wages so that the total of wage plus subsistence allowance equals what non-veterans are getting for doing the same type of work.

"Cheap Labor"

They cut wages, in other words, and let the subsistence allowance make up the difference. Employers doing this save themselves $65 or $90 a month for each veteran they hire under the program. About 13,000,000 veterans are eligible for training on the job, so this hiring of "cheap labor" might cost taxpayers a huge sum if all employers were as dishonest as these few.

State approval agencies are not supposed to give the nod to any outfit seeking approval unless it can show that a workable training program has been set up. The training program should prepare the veteran for the job he's aiming at.

But actually many so-called "training programs" are neither programs nor do they give training. One veteran training to be an auto mechanic, spent months cleaning up around the auto shop, washing windows and doing similar odd jobs. He never got near an automobile, much less a motor.

Another veteran was signed up on a two-year program—to learn how to take nickels out of a juke-box.

States To Benefit Under Broadened Act

Washington, Aug. 14 (P)—The government estimated Tuesday that states will get $152,208,000 more a year from the treasury for public help program under the newly broadened social security act.

This will swell the annual federal contribution to about $560,281,000, the federal security agency announced.

Pennsylvania will receive $27,795,000, an increase estimated at $7,622,000. New Jersey will get $6,730,000, an increase of about $1,764,000.

Simultaneously Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) told reporters that the "minimum American social security program" of the future should include payments of $150 a month to every unmarried person over 60 and $200 for married couples above that age.

"There are a group of us who are going to start fighting toward that program when the new Congress convenes in January," Pepper said.

East Berlin

East Berlin—Mrs. Leon Roos, accompanied by Mrs. George W. Moul, has returned from a trip to Altoona to visit her parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. P. Carter. They were accompanied home by Hanna, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roos, who had spent about two weeks with her grandparents.

A bungalow along the Conewago creek is being erected for Herbert J. Kopp, Hanover.

The Misses Dorothy, Alma and Ruth Danner, daughters of the Rev. J. Monroe Danner, are spending some time on a vacation trip to the New England states.

J. M. Jones, near Mechanicsburg, former proprietor of the "Germany Store," near here, has been admitted to a hospital in Harrisburg for a serious operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Creekmore, who recently arrived here from West Palm Beach, Fla., moved this week from the Weichert cottage, East Berlin park, to the third floor apartment in the J. W. Dull property which is being improved and re-decorated. Miss Patricia Booser, sister of Mrs. Creekmore, plans to make her home with the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Shetter and son, Jim, are preparing to leave at the end of August for an extended stay in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hertz, formerly of York, are now residing in the former Ralph Zortman bungalow along the Conewago, which they recently purchased. Mr. Hertz is a recent war veteran.

Mrs. J. William Dull has been confined to her home by serious sickness.

Patsy, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Schwartz, Pittsburgh, formerly of town, is spending a part of the summer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Mummert as a guest of their daughter, Mary Louise.

Donald R. Moul, U. S. Maritime Service, is spending some time at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Moul, after returning from a trip to the Scandinavian peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes L. Anthony are having a bungalow erected along the Conewago creek, on the land purchased from Oliver W. Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard O. Riggs have been informed that his cousin, Miss Mary Rodgers Owings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus C. Owings, York, has returned to her home from a Chicago hospital where she was treated for a serious head injury sustained July 19 when she, with several friends from Manhattanville college, N. Y., was involved in an auto crash near Gary, Ind., while on a trip to Detroit. Miss Owings' condition is much improved. Her father was formerly in charge of the East Berlin Milling company.

Charles, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bechtel, has returned from a visit to relatives in West Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Lavere Burgard and daughter Shirley have returned from a trip to Virginia Beach, Va.

Miss Anna E. Sinner, a student nurse at the York hospital, is spending a part of her three-weeks' vacation at the home of her uncle, J. Harry Sinner, and her cousin, Charles B. Wallace, and their families. Miss Sinner is the daughter of Emanuel J. Sinner, York, formerly of town.

Mass was celebrated in the parish church on Sunday morning for the first time in some years, although all the pews have not yet been replaced. The Paradise Rectory,

HOOVER URGES COOPERATION FOR PEACE

Salt Lake City, Aug. 14 (P)—In a world dominated by "fear and frustration," the United States should conserve its economic resources, "keep our powder dry," and cooperate with the United Nations "to maintain peace," Ex-President Herbert Hoover cautioned today.

In a birthday statement issued on his arrival here from inspecting mining properties near Pioche, Nev., where he became 72 years old Saturday, the only living ex-president of the U. S. cited the differences between the period following World War I and the present.

"The dominant note in the world a year after World War I was hope and confidence," he said. "Today it is fear and frustration."

Hoover took occasion before leaving on a mountain trip with his son Allen, to score what he regards as Russian designs on Manchuria and areas adjacent to the Soviet Union.

Assails Russians

He urged the U. S. to stop playing "Santa Claus" with the nation's resources, "hold the atomic bomb until there is real cooperation for lasting peace," and "at all times assert the principles of the Atlantic Charter."

Hoover said "Far fewer nations" have freedom than 25 years ago and predicted "another world explosion" from attempts to "reduce the German people to a level of perpetual poverty."

"Today there is a universal desire in all nations except Russia to make peace," said Hoover. "My own impression is that Russia is obstructing (peace) to gain time for elimination of all non-Communist elements and thus—the consolidation and practical absorption of those areas behind the 'iron curtain' and Manchuria."

"Her (Russia's) invigorated fifth column in every country add to confusion. The rest of the world is rapidly concentrating its fears and consequently its animosities toward her."

Russia Has Plan For Dardanelles

Moscow, Aug. 14 (P)—Soviet Russia announced Tuesday she had proposed to Turkey that the Black Sea powers take full authority in drawing up a new treaty governing the Dardanelles and that the U.S.S.R. and Turkey should organize defenses of the straits jointly.

The Russian note said the 10-year-old Montreux convention, whereby Turkey was granted the right to militarize the straits "does not correspond to the interests of security of the Black sea states and does not guarantee conditions preventing the use of these straits with aims inimical to the Black sea powers."

The note was made public by the Soviet foreign office. The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said it had been presented to the Turkish government in Ankara last Thursday and that its contents were

Molotov Says Italians Have Responsibility; Opposes Delay

By WILLIAM B. KING

Paris, Aug. 14 (P)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov told the Paris Peace conference Tuesday

"Fascist Italy bears a tremendous responsibility" but that "does not mean that Italy should lose her importance as a power in the Mediterranean."

Speaking in response to pleas for leniency expressed Saturday by Premier Alcide De Gasperi, of Italy, Molotov paid tribute to the "historic services rendered by Italy." He said the Soviet people were "confident for the future of Italy as a great country."

He added, however, that De Gasperi's address was an "attempt to evade the fundamental problems of Italy's democratic resurgence."

"The head of the Italian delegation failed to condemn Fascism. He failed to make a single remark against the work of Mussolini," Molotov declared.

Opposes Deferment

The Russian Foreign Minister said De Gasperi's suggestion for a year's delay in completing the peace terms, especially with relation to the future of Trieste, "can meet with no support from this conference."

He said Italy's demand for postponement was an attempt "to exploit divergences in the views between the Allies," and was based on the hope that "it will be possible to upset certain compromises of the Foreign Ministers' council."

In passing, he also bespoke opposition to the suggestion that final settlement for Italy await the German peace terms, declaring: "Peace disclosed simultaneously to Britain and the United States.

It asserted that Germans and Italians had used the strategic link between the Black sea and the Mediterranean illegally for military purposes during the second World War and that Turkey "cannot avoid responsibility."

Someone To Believe In

By Helen R. Woodward

Chapter 25

On the night of Jessie's party,
Greer blessed her Aunt Harriet more than once, for the lovely green frocks gave her the exact degree of ease and assurance she so sorely needed. Mr. and Mrs. Barlow were genuinely glad to see her and the beautifully appointed dinner service, the air of graciousness and charm about the whole house were things that Greer hadn't known she'd been missing so poignantly.

She was glad that Jeff Mansfield was one of the first to arrive. He opened his eyes wide at sight of Greer. "Why didn't you let me know you were coming?" he cried, a little exasperated with her. "I'd have called for you."

"I dined with the family," she explained, then turned to greet Toddy Martin, the Gaines twins, Si Leyton,
Joey Farnsworth—the whole parade of old friends who had once been her daily associates. It was quite apparent how surprised they were to see her once more in their company.

Later she slipped up to the powder room to repair her makeup and paused, her hand on the door, hearing her name mentioned.

"Jessie had a lot of nerve, inviting Greer here—forcing her on us whether we like it or not!" That was Page, her voice dripping venom.

"Oh, I don't see why she shouldn't come! After all, Greer can't help what her old man did!" That would be Callie Gaines.

"Well, she did plenty of her own,
if you ask me! Parading her notoriety at the Melody Club!"

"All the same, you'll have to hand it to her," Betsy Tatum's voice took up the conversation. "She hasn't asked anything of anybody!"

"Except Rocky Alverson!" Page insinuated.

"She sold the one commodity she possessed in abundance—glamour!
And she still has got plenty of that!"

"It maddens me the way our men flock around her—"

"Well, what do you expect? That kind of girl—"

Greer went slowly back down the stairs. All the joy had been drained from the evening. She felt lonely and frightened and unwanted. The tears rose hot and thick behind her lashes and she blinked quickly to keep them from spilling over. Why had she come? Why had she ever thought that you could take up life where you have laid it down, just as if nothing had ever happened?

Her eyes sweeping the room came to a halt as they rested on a tall
dows. Rocky stood there, smoking, his amused, half-veiled glance talking in the scene before him. She felt the color rising in her cheeks, her heart hammering painfully.

This was the first time she had so much as glimpsed him since he had called her a snob and kissed her so savagely—when she had realized that whether she liked it or not she loved him. What on earth could they say to each other now?

Rocky, of course, would be cool, casual and amused, and Greer, taking a tight grip on her emotions, resolved fiercely that she would be as nonchalant as he. Provided of course that he meant to speak to her at all! She had not long to wonder on that score, however, for presently there was a light tap on her partner's arm and Rocky stood before her, smiling his one-sided grin

Thank heaven, she thought, she had had a few moments to prepare for this, to assume just the right expression of pleased surprise.

His lips, just above her ear, whispered, "One misfit should always dance with another, Greer! You know neither one of us belongs here.
The sidelines are having a swell time discussing us. They are wondering now if they dare link our names together—the former newsboy and last year's glamour girl.
What a juicy tidbit to roll on their tongues. If they only knew how utterly uninterested in each other you and I are! Aren't we, Greer, darling?"

Surely he could feel her trembling! Rocky, darling, her heart was crying—hold me closer—this is where I've been wanting so desperately to be!

"Why are you so bitter? It's what you've been wanting, isn't it?"

His lips curled. "Well, you see, I always had the idea that the so-called upper crust must have God's own special recipe for the way people should conduct themselves. It's a bit disappointing to learn that I can find more honor and decency on the sidewalks of Chicago!"

"Then I'd suggest," she was saying as someone cut in, "that the sidewalks of Chicago might be the best place for you to find happiness!"

"Alverson's a queer duck!" the man who was holding her in his arms said. "A strange fellow, but surprisingly likable. Don't you think so?"

"I think he's detestable!" Greer said grimly, and added to herself,
"And I love him—he's hrt, but I could make him happy, if he'd only believe in me again! That's what he needs most of all—someone to believe in! And so do I! Oh, so do I—most terribly!"

Rocky stood by the French window most of the evening, talking courteously to whomever was near him, but always keeping his eyes on the dancers. Greer felt as she had so often at the Melody Club—that he was following every move she made. And then, when the evening was nearly over he came to Greer again.

"Jessie tells me you came early—without an escort. I'd be glad to drive you home."

"Thank you, Rocky—on one condition!"

His brows were drawn down darkly. "Of course, I might have expected that! If you're thinking I might make another pass at you—"

She laughed. "Of course not.
You've gotten me out of your blood!
Remember? I only meant that—well, party food isn't very filling, is it? You'd have to guarantee me a hamburger on the way home!"

TAX TIPSTERS PAID $55,000 BY GOVERNMENT

By CHARLES MALONY

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—Tax informers helped the government collect a little more than $1,000,000 last year and for their part picked up about $55,000 in extra change.

Reluctant to go into details, officials said "fewer than 100" persons cashed in on their tips.

These new figures brought the total of such collections over the last decade to about $21,500,000.

Informers' cuts over that period amounted to $675,000—around three per cent of the total take.

The government has been giving a bounty since 1880 to individuals who supply information leading to collection of taxes that might otherwise never have been paid.

Turn In Ex-Bosses

The practice has led officials to these observations:

1. Very few informers have ever

M. Vinson of the supreme court.
Johnston, resident of Lewisburg,
Pa., resigned his federal court post last July, 1945 before the house judiciary committee charged he
"sold justice" in his courtroom
"for all the traffic could bear."

In a report made public last February 6, the committee described Johnston as an "evil and wicked judge."

Most birds sing only while on the wing or when perched on some elevated object.

Cent as the name of an American coin was first suggested by Government Morris.

"UNBLOCK" your DIGESTIVE TRACT

And Stop Dosing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And when the lower part gets blocked food may fail to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is something to "unblock" your lower intestinal tract.
Something to clean it out effectively—help
Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Pills right now. Take them as directed. They gently and effectively "un-block" your digestive tract. This permits all of Nature's own digestive juices to mix better with your food.

You get genuine relief from indigestion so you can feel really good again.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
School Staff Is Completed Now:

The last vacancy in the teaching staff of the Gettysburg public schools has been filled with the election of J. Guy Wolf, of Abbotstown, as instructor in charge of the Commercial Department at the high school, it was announced recently by the school board.

County Couple Weds in Church:

In the presence of a few near relatives at 8:30 Tuesday evening at Abbotstown, Maude L. Wierman and Hilary R. Kennedy were united in marriage by Rev. Paul Gladfelter.

Married in Hagerstown: Miss Emma Pittendale, of Gettysburg, formerly of Lewistown, and William Henry Dubbs, son of Mrs. Nettie Dubbs, Center Square, were married in Hagerstown on Saturday by Rev. Mr. Kauffman.

Hot and cold shower baths open to public in basement of Plank Building, Baltimore street. Admission 25 cents. Fred Tawney is in charge.—Advertisement.

Great Assembly Comes to Close:

The greatest Lutheran Summer Bible Assembly ever held at the Seminary, came to a fitting close Wednesday morning with the action taken by the organization to raise $800 to complete a $10,000 fund, establishing a rescue mission in Japan. The mission will include a rescue work and home for reformed Geisha girls and a home for old people and orphans. The money was cabled to Japan.

The appeal for the support of the work in Japan was made by Mrs. E. C. Cronk as a climax to her closing address which was a challenge to a life of Christian service and leadership.

The registration was 228, a greater attendance than was present at any previous Assembly here.

Married in New Chester: Clarence Grayson Ecker, Tyrone township, son of Calvin T. Ecker, and Sarah Marie Slaybaugh, also of Tyrone township, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin F. Slaybaugh, were married in New Chester on Thursday by Rev. L. G. Stouffer, pastor of the Lutheran church there.

Marriage License: Joseph Carroll Carson, Fountaineau, son of John B. Carson, Hamiltonban township, and Della Viola Sease, Fairfield, daughter of John Joseph Sease, have been granted a license to wed.

Granted Marriage License: Gurus Thomas Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Little, Straban township, and Della May Bream, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bream, of Menallen township, were granted a marriage license Saturday by J. R. Hartman, clerk of the courts.

Strike Another Nail: While working on Baltimore street Monday the plumbing force of A. B. Plank struck a well in front of the building of Mr. Plank. This well, old residents recollect, was the one used by James Gettys, founder of the town, and this family.

Child Dies From Dread Disease: Infantile paralysis caused the first death in Adams county in many years Saturday morning when it took the life of Melvin Sanders, four years old, who lived with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Altland, Bonneville. The child was ill only a few days when it developed one of the most severe cases of poliomyelitis seen recently in this region, physicians who examined the child said.

Private burial was made at Fairfield on Sunday morning.

Today's Talk

GET THE THING DONE!

Too many people look askance at a problem, as though its solution were obvious, but do nothing about it. They pass by the obvious thing to do and see how many different, difficult ways can be tried out first!

You note this practice in everyday life, and markedly so in the high councils of government these days. Too much talk to no avail, too much wrangling, too little common sense, too much politics. What a kingly individual is that one who brushes aside difficulties, looks the problem full in the face — and gets the thing done!

I have a neighbor on Grand Lake, where I have my summer island retreat, whose name may mean nothing to readers of this talk, but it means a great deal to me. His name is George W. Tingley. I think the middle initial stands for Work, for I never see him idle. He sees a thing that ought to be done — and does it — the simplest, quickest, obvious way. And then he goes on to something else that is worth while.

I owe much of my happiness here at Weskavenaak to this man, who sees things about my place that ought to be done in my absence — and does them for the pure joy of doing, and perhaps to give me a surprise and a feeling of gratitude. But it is characteristic of G.W.T. to do these things, not alone for me, but for all those within his community. He would stand at the bottom of the procrastinator class!

It has now been over a year since the last great war apparently was ended — but there is yet no genuine peace, no getting down to the rebuilding of the world, which has been so tragically torn, bruised and battered. It would seem that this last great lesson of war would have been so thoroughly learned that peace would be the first and primary task — and quickly enacted, so as to initiate the building of hope and good will in the world, but the cruel cackling goes on. Millions remain hungry and homeless. Production of the essentials lags.

The world needs a baptism of faith in leaders who get things done, and these leaders must recognize the fact that the interests of the people come first, not selfish and sordid ambitions for more land, booty, and political preferment. It was a poet who exclaimed: "God, give us men" — and I would add, men that get things done!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Paint."

FEARS

I am a man of fears! I dread

A baby falling out of bed.

Though I have heard it oft before,

I hate that bump upon the floor.

I am a nervous man! I shrink

When youngsters stand on peril's brink.

Or helter-skelter race the stairs,

Or stand tip-toe on shaky chairs.

When boys with matches I behold,

The blood within my veins goes cold.

An open knife, a running child,

With terror almost drive me wild.

But, of the fears to which I'm host,

I think that fish hooks fright me most—

For once I saw, when young was I,

A fish hook in a youngster's eye.

GEN. BRADLEY WORRIED OVER VET TRAINING

(Editor's Note: This is the first of three articles describing the on-the-job training program for veterans.)

By ROWLAND EVANS, Jr.

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—General Bradley, Administrator of Veterans' Affairs, is worried about the on-the-job training program. He has said so.

On-the-job training is one of the many benefits afforded veterans of World War II by the G.I. Bill of Rights. It provides for a government subsistence allowance payable to any veteran who participates in a job-training situation.

The only stipulation is that the job the veteran takes can lead within a reasonable time to a better job. In other words, the veteran is "in training" for a better job. But employers who conduct job-training programs do not have to guarantee the veteran a better job.

Subsistence Allowance

Almost any company or individual employer can be approved to give on-the-job training. The approval is not given by the Veterans Administration (VA), but by the state in which the company is located. Usually the State Department of Education is the agency having jurisdiction.

The subsistence allowance paid by the government amounts to $65 or $90 a month, depending upon whether the veteran has a dependent or dependents.

The allowance is payable for a maximum of four years and is designed to supplement low entry-wage salaries.

"National Scandal"

When the veteran finishes his training and starts drawing the pay of a fully-trained worker, the allowance is cut off.

At no point during training may the veteran's salary plus the subsistence allowance exceed the pay of the fully-trained worker. As the veteran's salary increases, the subsistence allowance is cut down to keep the total about equal to the pay of the fully-trained worker.

Here's why. Some unscrupulous employers get themselves approved to give job-training. Then they hire veterans under the job-training program and deliberately cut entry wages so that the total of wage plus subsistence allowance equals what non-veterans are getting for doing the same type of work.

"Cheap Labor"

They cut wages, in other words, and let the subsistence allowance make up the difference. Employers doing this save themselves $65 or $90 a month for each veteran they hire under the program. About 13,000,000 veterans are eligible for training on the job, so this hiring of "cheap labor" might cost taxpayers a huge sum if all employers were as dishonest as these few.

State approval agencies are not supposed to give the nod to any outfit seeking approval unless it can show that a workable training program has been set up. The training program should prepare the veteran for the job he's aiming at.

But actually many so-called "training programs" are neither programs nor do they give training. One veteran training to be an auto mechanic, spent months cleaning up around the auto shop, washing windows and doing similar odd jobs. He never got near an automobile, much less a motor.

Another veteran was signed up on a two-year program—to learn how to take nickels out of a jukebox.

States To Benefit Under Broadened Act

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—The government estimated Tuesday that states will get $152,208,000 more a year from the treasury for public help program under the newly broadened social security act.

This will swell the annual federal contribution to about $560,281,000, the federal security agency announced.

Pennsylvania will receive $27,795,000, an increase estimated at $7,622,000. New Jersey will get $6,730,000, an increase of about $1,764,000.

Simultaneously Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) told reporters that the "minimum American social security program" of the future should include payments of $150 a month to every unmarried person over 60 and $200 for married couples above that age.

"There are a group of us who are going to start fighting toward that program when the new Congress convenes in January," Pepper said.

East Berlin

East Berlin—Mrs. Leon Roos, accompanied by Mrs. George W. Moul, has returned from a trip to Altona to visit her parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. P. Carter. They were accompanied home by Hanna, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roos, who had spent about two weeks with her grandparents.

A bungalow along the Conewago creek is being erected for Herbert J. Kopp, Hanover.

The Misses Dorothy, Alma and Ruth Danner, daughters of the Rev. J. Monroe Danner, are spending some time on a vacation trip to the New England states.

J. M. Jones, near Mechanicsburg, former proprietor of the "Germany Store," near here, has been admitted to a hospital in Harrisburg for a serious operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Creekmore, who recently arrived here from West Palm Beach, Fla., moved this week from the Weichert cottage, East Berlin park, to the third floor apartment in the J. W. Dull property which is being improved and re-decorated. Miss Patricia Boozer, sister of Mrs. Creekmore, plans to make her home with the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Shetter and son, Jim, are preparing to leave at the end of August for an extended stay in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hertz, formerly of York, are now residing in the former Ralph Zortman bungalow along the Conewago, which they recently purchased. Mr. Hertz is a recent war veteran.

Mrs. J. William Dull has been confined to her home by serious sickness.

Patsy, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Schwartz, Pittsburgh, formerly of town, is spending a part of the summer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Mummert as a guest of their daughter, Mary Louise.

Donald R. Moul, U. S. Maritime Service, is spending some time at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Moul, after returning from a trip to the Scandinavian peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes L. Anthony are having a bungalow erected along the Conewago creek, on the land purchased from Oliver W. Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard O. Riggs have been informed that his cousin, Miss Mary Rodgers Owings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus C. Owings, York, has returned to her home from a Chicago hospital where she was treated for a serious head injury sustained July 19 when she, with several friends from Manhattanville college, N. Y., was involved in an auto crash near Gary, Ind., while on a trip to Detroit. Miss Owings' condition is much improved. Her father was formerly in charge of the East Berlin Milling company.

Charles, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bechtel, has returned from a visit to relatives in West Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Lavere Burgard and daughter Shirley have returned from a trip to Virginia Beach, Va.

Miss Anna E. Sinner, a student nurse at the York hospital, is spending a part of her three-weeks' vacation at the home of her uncle, J. Harry Sinner, and her cousin, Charles B. Wallace, and their families. Miss Sinner is the daughter of Emanuel J. Sinner, York, formerly of town.

Mass was celebrated in the parish church on Sunday morning for the first time in some years, although all the pews have not yet been replaced. The Paradise Rectory,

HOOVER URGES COOPERATION FOR PEACE

Salt Lake City, Aug. 14 (AP)—In a world dominated by "fear and frustration," the United States should conserve its economic resources, "keep our powder dry," and cooperate with the United Nations "to maintain peace," Ex-President Herbert Hoover cautioned today.

In a birthday statement issued on his arrival here from inspecting mining properties near Pioche, Nev., where he became 72 years old Saturday, the only living ex-president of the U. S. cited the differences between the period following World War I and the present.

"The dominant note in the world a year after World War I was hope and confidence," he said. "Today it is fear and frustration."

Hoover took occasion before leaving on a mountain trip with his son Allen, to score what he regards as Russian designs on Manchuria and areas adjacent to the Soviet Union.

Assails Russians

He urged the U. S. to stop playing "Santa Claus" with the nation's resources, "hold the atomic bomb until there is real cooperation for lasting peace," and "at all times assert the principles of the Atlantic Charter."

Hoover said "Far fewer nations" have freedom than 25 years ago and predicted "another world explosion" from attempts to "reduce the German people to a level of perpetual poverty."

"Today there is a universal desire in all nations except Russia to make peace," said Hoover. "My own impression is that Russia is obstructing (peace) to gain time for elimination of all non-Communist elements and thus—the consolidation and practical absorption of those areas behind the 'iron curtain' and Manchuria."

"Her (Russia's) invigorated fifth column in every country add to confusion. The rest of the world is rapidly concentrating its fears and consequently its animosities toward her."

Russia Has Plan For Dardanelles

Moscow, Aug. 14 (AP)—Soviet Russia announced Tuesday she had proposed to Turkey that the Black sea powers take full authority in drawing up a new treaty governing the Dardanelles and that the U.S.S.R. and Turkey should organize defenses of the straits jointly.

The Russian note said the 10-year-old Montreux convention, whereby Turkey was granted the right to militarize the straits "does not correspond to the interests of security of the Black sea states and does not guarantee conditions preventing the use of these straits with aims inimical to the Black sea powers."

The note was made public by the Soviet foreign office. The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said it had been presented to the Turkish government in Ankara last Thursday and that its contents were

Molotov Says Italians Have Responsibility; Opposes Delay

By WILLIAM B. KING

Paris, Aug. 14 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov told the Paris Peace conference Tuesday "Fascist Italy bears a tremendous responsibility" but that "does not mean that Italy should lose her importance as a power in the Mediterranean."

Speaking in response to pleas for leniency expressed Saturday by Premier Alcide De Gasperi, of Italy, Molotov paid tribute to the "historic services rendered by Italy." He said the Soviet people were "confident for the future of Italy as a great country."

He added, however, that De Gasperi's address was an "attempt to evade the fundamental problems of Italy's democratic resurgence."

"The head of the Italian delegation failed to condemn Fascism. He failed to make a single remark against the work of Mussolini," Molotov declared.

Opposes Deferment

The Russian Foreign Minister said De Gasperi's suggestion for a year's delay in completing the peace terms, especially with relation to the future of Trieste, "can meet with no support from this conference."

He said Italy's demand for postponement was an attempt "to exploit divergencies in the views between the Allies," and was based on the hope that "it will be possible to upset certain compromises of the Foreign Ministers' council."

In passing, he also bespoke opposition to the suggestion that final settlement for Italy await the German peace terms, declaring: "Peace

disclosed simultaneously to Britain and the United States.

It asserted that Germans and Italians had used the strategic link between the Black sea and the Mediterranean illegally for military purposes during the second World War and that Turkey "cannot avoid responsibility."

with Germany can have no bearing whatever on Trieste."

Molotov recalled that it was only after the Russian victory at Stalingrad and the Allied victories in North Africa and southern Italy that Italy got out of the war and "began to reorganize on a democratic basis."

Must Out Fascism

"It was not easy for the new Italy to stand firm after the downfall of Fascism. . . . Italy can not become a democratic country unless she roots out the last vestiges of Fascism," he said.

Molotov charged that "certain powers are trying to gain power in the Mediterranean at the expense of Italy and France," and said both countries should "feel responsibility as a Mediterranean states."

The head Ethiopian delegate, Ato Akilou Habte Wold, following Molotov in the Italian debate, answered the applause which greeted him with the remark:

"At this touching moment I can not help remembering another scene in which Italian fascists hissed the monarch before the league of nations."

Restore Territories

(He referred to the occasion when Emperor Haile Selassie made a personal appeal before the league at Geneva in a vain protest against the Italian invasion of Ethiopia in 1939.)

In his five-minute address the Ethiopian delegate recalled that "Italy used Eritrea and Somaliland as bases for her attack against Ethiopia."

He said allied troops during the war told natives of those countries that "these territories will never go back under Italy."

To return them to Italy would be "an act of international immorality," he said.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, opened the meeting with a declaration from the chair that only two requests to speak on the Italian matter were pending before the conference and that unless the other members asked for the floor the debate would be concluded with the remarks of the Russian and Ethiopian delegates.

Byrnes Reverses Self

Byrnes had opened the conference to unlimited debate on the Italian question Monday night after his ruling that general debate should be deferred was challenged by Russian delegate A. Y. Vishinsky as "an infraction of all the rules and an insult to the Soviet Union."

Byrnes consulted the minutes of last Saturday's plenary session immediately after Vishinsky's angry argument and agreed that the secretariat had erred in preparing the agenda. He said debate of the Italian question would be continued and later promised that the name of V. M. Molotov, Russian foreign minister, would be placed on the agenda to reply to De Gasperi's plea for leniency.

Chapter 25

On the night of Jessie's party, Greer blessed her Aunt Harriet more than once, for the lovely green frock gave her the exact degree of ease and assurance she so sorely needed. Mr. and Mrs. Barlow were genuinely glad to see her and the beautifully appointed dinner service, the air of graciousness and charm about the whole house were things that Greer hadn't known she'd been missing so poignantly.

She was glad that Jeff Mansfield was one of the first to arrive. He opened his eyes wide at sight of Greer. "Why didn't you let me know you were coming?" he cried, a little exasperated with her. "I'd have called for you."

"I dined with the family," she explained, then turned to greet Toddy Martin, the Gaines twins, St. Leyton, Joey Farnsworth—the whole parade of old friends who had once been her daily associates. It was quite apparent how surprised they were to see her once more in their company.

Later she slipped up to the powder room to repair her makeup and paused, her hand on the door, hearing her name mentioned.

"Jessie had a lot of nerve, inviting Greer here—forcing her on us whether we like it or not!" That was Page, her voice dripping venom. "Oh, I don't see why she shouldn't come! After all, Greer can't help what her old man did!" That would be Callie Gaines.

"Well, she did plenty of her own, if you ask me! Parading her notoriety at the Melody Club!"

"All the same, you'll have to hand it to her," Betsy Tatums' voice took up the conversation. "She hasn't asked anything of anybody!"

"Except Rocky Alverson!" Page insisted.

"She sold the one commodity she possessed in abundance—glamour! And she still has got plenty of that!"

"It maddens me the way our men flock around her—"

"Well, what do you expect? That kind of girl—"

Greer went slowly back down the stairs. All the joy had been drained from the evening. She felt lonely and frightened and unwanted. The tears rose hot and thick behind her lashes and she blinked quickly to keep them from spilling over. Why had she come? Why had she ever thought that you could take up life where you have laid it down, just as if nothing had ever happened?

Her eyes sweeping the room came to a halt as they rested on a tall figure lounging by the French windows. Rocky stood there, smoking, his amused, half-veiled glance taking in the scene before him. She felt the color rising in her cheeks, her heart hammering painfully. This was the first time she had so much as glimpsed him since he had called her a snob and kissed her so savagely—when she had realized that whether she liked it or not she loved him. What on earth could they say to each other now?

Rocky, of course, would be cool, casual and amused, and Greer, taking a tight grip on her emotions, resolved fiercely that she would be as nonchalant as he. Provided of course that he meant to speak to her at all! She had not long to wonder on that score, however, for presently there was a light tap on her partner's arm and Rocky stood before her, smiling his one-sided grin

Thank heaven, she thought, she had had a few moments to prepare for this, to assume just the right expression of pleased surprise.

His lips, just above her ear, whispered, "One misfit should always dance with another, Greer! You know neither one of us belongs here."

The sidelines are having a swell time discussing us. They are wondering now if they dare link our names together—the former newsboy and last year's glamour girl. What a juicy tidbit to roll on their tongues. If they only knew how utterly uninterested in each other you and I are! Aren't we, Greer, darling?"

Surely he could feel her trembling! Rocky, darling, her heart was crying—hold me closer—this is where I've been wanting so desperately to be!

"Why are you so bitter? It's what you've been wanting, isn't it?"

His lips curled. "Well, you see, I always had the idea that the so-called upper crust must have God's own special recipe for the way people should conduct themselves. It's a bit disappointing to learn that I can find more honor and decency on the sidewalks of Chicago!"

"Then I'd suggest," she was saying as someone cut in, "that the sidewalks of Chicago might be the best place for you to find happiness!"

"Alverson's a queer duck!" the man who was holding her in his arms said. "A strange fellow, but surprisingly likable. Don't you think so?"

"I think he's delectable!" Greer said grimly, and added to herself, "And I love him—he's hot, but I could make him happy, if he'd only believe in me again! That's what he needs most of all—someone to believe in! And so do I! Oh, so do I—most terribly!"

Rocky stood by the French window most of the evening, talking courteously to whomever was near him, but always keeping his eyes on the dancers. Greer felt as she had so often at the Melody Club—that he was following every move she made. And then, when the evening was nearly over he came to Greer again.

'House Of Horror'
Operating Again

Indianapolis, Aug. 14 (AP)—An Indianapolis nursing home, called a "house of horror" by Prosecutor Sherwood Blue, was operating again Tuesday after Proprietor Mrs. Margaret Colvin, 50, had been released from jail on bond.

But the prosecutor said he would seek an injunction to prevent Mrs. Colvin from operating the home, and, if unsuccessful, would arrest her every day on charges of operating a nursing home without a license.

Mrs. Colvin is charged with failure to have a license, as well as assault and battery and malicious mayhem.

Police and deputy prosecutors who went to the house on Indianapolis' North Side Saturday to serve the warrants on Mrs. Colvin, said they found patients, many of them elderly mental cases, chained to beds behind locked doors.

Stockholm, Aug. 14 (AP)—An eyewitness account published in the Stockholm Afonblad Monday told how a 100-foot "ghost rocket" exploded in a blinding flash over Sweden, lending support to previous reports that the mystery missiles are equipped with destruction devices which make it impossible to find trace of them.

The rockets have been observed over this country at frequent intervals of late, and military officials believe Sweden is in a target area for experiments with remotely controlled missiles, launched perhaps from the German Baltic coast.

MAN IS FREED IN SLAYING OF BOYHOOD CHUM

Chicago, Aug. 14 (AP)—Freed from a charge of murdering his "best friend," Donald Murray, 41, Tuesday prepared to make a new start, while his wife, Doris, 39, after a short fling at extra-marital romance, insisted she still loved her husband and awaited his call.

A jury of eight women and four men deliberated only 43 minutes last night before acquitting Murray of murder in the slaying of Maj. John Fletcher, 46, a Canadian army officer from Vancouver, B. C., who was with the nude Mrs. Murray when the woman's husband burst into a loop hotel room last May 27.

Murray's testimony that he shot and killed the officer in self defense was supported by Mrs. Murray who testified her husband fired after Fletcher attacked him with a chair.

Asked by reporters whether he would now go back to his wife, Murray said:

"I don't know. That's an honest answer. Only time will settle that."

As the courtroom applause that greeted the verdict died away, he declared:

Lost Old Job

"I want to stay in Chicago. I'm not going to run away. This has been my home grounds and I hope my old customers will be waiting for me. I lost my old job over this affair and have a father to support."

"He sure is a grand guy," said Mrs. Murray, earlier, she testified she "always loved" her husband.

Testifying Monday as a court witness after both state and defense declined to summon her, Mrs. Murray said she met Fletcher for the first time just a week before the shooting when he came to the Murphys' home to seek advice about a divorce.

Murray and the officer had been friends since boyhood.

"I was fascinated with him," Mrs. Murray testified. She said Fletcher came to her office the next day and told her:

"I never felt about any woman as I feel about you."

On the day of the shooting, Mrs. Murray continued, Fletcher told her he loved her, and suggested that she ask her husband for a divorce.

He put his "death's head" ring on her finger, she said, and she gave him a ring of her own.

SIDETRACK TWO
U. N. PROBLEMS

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—The applications of Ireland and Trans-Jordan for membership in the United Nations were sidetracked Tuesday by firm Russian opposition.

As a result of yesterday's meeting of the Security Council's 11-nation membership committee only Afghanistan was tentatively given a clean bill out of the first five of nine applications under consideration. The committee has morning and afternoon meetings scheduled for today.

Some quibbling may remain over Afghanistan's bid, since Australian Delegate Paul Hasluck tempered his approval with a mild reservation. A non-government agency, the World Jewish Congress, also volunteered a memorandum charging the Kabul government was exercising a "virtual reign of terror" over 5,000 Jews said to be living in Afghanistan.

The Jewish complaint will be acknowledged and filed away for any future reference. Afghanistan was supported by the United States and unanimously approved for membership, pending a final vote, before the Jewish protest had gained circulation.

Red Cross Supplies
Sent To Quake Area

Cuidad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, Aug. 14 (AP)—The American Red Cross rushed a plane load of medical supplies from San Juan, Puerto Rico, today to the earthquake and tidal wave disaster zone on the north coast of this Caribbean island where an outbreak of disease threatened the lives of thousands of homeless refugees.

More than 75 persons in a single camp of 500 refugees in the camp were reported ill with paratyphus, malaria or unidentified intestinal ailments.

The village of Matanzas was virtually wiped out when it was struck by two tidal waves in the wake of the August 4 earthquake.

Sweden Probing Mysterious Rockets

Stockholm, Aug. 14 (AP)—Swedish military authorities plan to publish within the next few days a communique on an investigation they have been making of the "ghost rockets" that have been streaking daily over Sweden since early July.

... leaving little doubt that the country has become an experimental target range.

Official sources have declined to speculate on the source of the mysterious spool shaped missiles, but it is generally believed that the rocket-propelled objects come from some place along the Baltic coast of Germany. Only in a few cases is it known that the missiles actually landed in Sweden.

Mussolini's Body Found In Monastery

Milan, Italy, Aug. 14 (AP)—Police said Monday night that the body of Benito Mussolini, which was stolen April 22 from an unmarked grave in a potter's field here by self-styled "Democratic Fascists," had been put in a trunk at a Pavia monastery.

The police said that two monks had been taken into custody in the investigation in addition to three laymen already held. The body was being guarded at a local police headquarters pending the receipt of further instructions from Rome.

The body was found in a Carthusian monastery at Pavia, where police said, it had been taken Sunday morning from the monastery of St. Angelo, its first hiding place after being exhumed at the potter's field.

Mussolini, and Claretta Petacci, his mistress, and 16 henchmen were executed by Italian partisans near the Swiss border April 28, 1945.

TALE OF MAXIE, HUMP-BACKED GERMAN MOUSE

By HAL BOYLE

Nuernberg, Germany (AP)—This is "30" for Maxie, the hump-backed mouse who lived in a castle, ate aspirin tablets and dipped his whiskers in beer.

The life story of this stumpled-footed rodent begins and ends in the art-haunted Eberhard Faber castle, a jumble of marble, Rococo plaster and brick built from the sale of lead pencils.

From the exalted atmosphere of his birthplace little Maxie acquired a fatal delusion of grandeur. Prowling about a rich library stocked with tales of fabled exploits by Teutonic knights, he became intoxicated with the idea he was a royal mouse, far up the social ladder from the fugitive kitchen-type "handout" mouse.

Scornful of Danger

Bolder than his timorous brethren, Maxie took the whole castle for his range and private scrounging preserve.

In his youth Maxie became hump-backed from a head-on collision with a swinging door. This left him embittered as well as telescoped, but in no wise cured him of the romantic delusion that destiny had singled him out to be a real mouse among mice, one of the earth's chosen.

He roamed the castle scornful of danger, levying regal tribute on the candy and food stores of Allied newspapermen and scaring the skirts off the ladies of the press.

Maxie condescended to share, more or less on his own terms, a room with myself and G. K. Hodenfield, another Associated Press correspondent. As I reported recently, he was strictly a non-silent mouse as he plodded and sniffed about the place.

He Just Frowned

He was the only mouse I ever saw that could start an echo.

If you yelled "scram" at him, he just frowned in annoyance. Once he was squiring around a poor relation from the basement, showing him the advantages of life on an airy upper floor. Since the room was crowded enough with two newspapermen, I tossed a book in their direction to discourage further tenacity. The poor relation ran for the radiator shelter but Maxie walked—dignity in every waddle.

He had a bad habit of napping in our beds. It was very disconcerting to find a mouse asleep on your pillow, even though he was a personal acquaintance.

To break him of this, we put in front of the radiator, reading from left to right, a cracker, four salted peanuts, a small puddle of beer and a sugar-coated aspirin tablet.

His Decline and Fall

Crawling out for his evening foray, Maxie would race through the cracker and peanuts. Then, stuffed and thirsty, he would lap up the beer and drowsily munch on the sugar aspirin tablet for dessert. Too full and weary to climb up a bedstead, he would wander groggily back under the radiator to sleep it off. That left everybody satisfied.

Now to Maxie's decline and fall: A German maid saw him one day scampering about the floor taking his morning constitutional. She ran for the door but returned later and cautiously shoved under a bed an old-fashioned trap baited with a chunk of cheese big enough to choke a rat.

The first day nothing happened except that two other German employees in the castle got bruised fingers trying to steal the cheese.

Moral of the Story

The next day we saw the trap ourselves and sprung it. Maxie got the cheese for nothing.

But the maid outwitted us by rebaiting the trap under another bed. Next morning we found Maxie there, still and cold, his nose buried in the fatal cheese, his long gray tail trailing stiffly from the wire spring that had closed upon his dreams of greatness.

We didn't want to touch the little royal pretender. So the maid with a snuff picked up what was left of dreamy Maxie and tossed him out his castle window. He was just a dead mouse in a rain-wet garden.

Moral: If you are doing all right on beer, don't ask for a free lunch.

REPUBLICANS MAP STRATEGY FOR CAMPAIGN

Harrisburg, Aug. 14 (AP)—Setting the stage for the start of the general election campaign, top Republican leaders ironed out details on issues and general strategy at a three-hour conference in Governor Martin's office.

State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, disclosing some of the discussion Monday centered about the drive the CIO-PAC is making for the Democratic slate, said the conferees called for an aggressive GOP campaign to counteract the PAC efforts.

A registration drive, aimed especially at veterans and young Republicans, "already is on," he said.

Taylor said state campaign headquarters will be opened soon with Gus M. Steinmetz, of the Department of Internal Affairs, directing publicity, and Charles N. Kapnie, State Commerce department, office manager and editor-in-chief. Both will take leaves of absence.

Speaking Tour

Gordon Mason, of Wilkes-Barre, will direct the candidates' itineraries, and Miss Alberta Brown, of the Department of Internal Affairs, will head the party's speakers' bureau. Paul Dague, of Downingtown, will direct the veterans' phase of the campaign.

Taylor added the conferees spent much time discussing the speaking tours of candidates, expected to begin in mid-September but thus far it has not been determined whether Martin and the other state-wide nominees will travel together or in groups of two as in 1944.

Asked if the presence at the conference of Rep. Richard Simpson, head of the Pennsylvania Republican Congressional Campaign committee, had any particular significance, Taylor said Simpson took part in discussions to help coordinate the stand of party nominees on national issues.

FRUIT CROP TO TOP '45 YIELD,
160,000 TONS

Harrisburg, Aug. 14 (AP)—Orchards and vineyards in Pennsylvania will yield over 160,000 more tons of fruit this year than in 1945, the Department of Agriculture reported today.

July weather favored all fruits, and, based on federal-state estimates of August 1, 1946, production of apples, peaches and pears will aggregate 6,158,000 bushels or nearly 150,000 tons more than 1945. Grapes and cherries will exceed 1945 crops by 13,500 tons.

Commercial apples represented most of the gain in food supplies, with their production advancing 1-170,000 bushels between July 1 and August 1. The crop of 8,190,000 bushels is about 5,700,000 larger than the 1945 production, which was the smallest in 24 years.

While the 1946 peach crop is about 200,000 bushels below the 10-year average, the indicated production of 1,582,000 bushels is about 300,000 greater than in 1945, the report stated.

Grapes are the only 1946 crop to surpass the 10-year average. Estimates advanced 500 tons during July to a total of 18,500 tons, 880 above average and more than three times last year's 6,000 tons.

Father-In-Law Jails Groom And Bails Him

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—Arthur Fleischman, 17, a navy trainee, was jailed yesterday on an abduction complaint signed by his father-in-law, freed in $1,000 bail raised by the same father-in-law, and then set out with his in-laws to visit his bride of two days, the former Lydia Johnson, 15.

Fleischman and Lydia, his high-school sweetheart, told police they were out together last Friday night and stayed out so late they were afraid to face Lydia's parents. Instead they eloped to Maryland and were married.

When they arrived back in New York they were arrested and Fleischman charged with abduction and Lydia with delinquency. They will be arraigned today.

Meanwhile the two sets of parents are trying to decide whether they are for or against the marriage.

Tokyo, Aug. 14 (AP)—Paul Goette, chief prosecution witness at the Tokyo War Crimes trial, testified today that Chinese officials bowed to conquering Japanese armies and considered it their duty to supply women to the invading forces.

Goette also declined to answer a defense question which stated Chiang Kai-shek offered to collaborate with the Japanese to settle the China incident.
